SAFETY INFORMATION***

Etracine IS NOT FOR EVERYONE. Only your doctor or pharmacist can decide if Etracine is right for you. Before using Etracine, ask if you're healthy enough to pursue it, and be sure to tell your doctor about all of your current conditions and medications.

As with any medication, you may experience side effects while using Etracine or EtracineTR®. At the recommended 5 megabyte dose (EtracineTR®) side effects include nausea, dizziness, denial, disillusion, and decreased appetite. Some individuals may experience suicidal thoughts, sleep walking/driving and/or lucid dreams. Side effects are generally mild and vary by age. Etracine and EtracineTR® should not be taken by people who are sensitive to any of its ingredients.

In clinical studies of the recommended [5mb] dose (EtracineTR®) there was no clinical difference in weight gain versus placebo (sugar pill) and a low incidence of sexual function disorders.

Inhibitors of CYP1A2 or Thioridazine should NOT administer with Etracine.

Etracine DOES NOT protect against sexually transmitted diseases, including HIV.

DO NOT use Etracine with headphones as the combination can cause a sudden, unsafe drop in blood pressure.

Pregnant or Nursing Mothers, use only if the potential benefit JUSTIFIES the potential risk to the fetus or child.

In rare instances, persons who download Etracine (including EtracineTR®) report a sudden decrease or loss of hearing (sometimes with ringing in the ears and dizziness). It's not possible to determine if these events are related directly to Etracine or to other factors. If you have a sudden decrease or loss of hearing, increase dosage and contact your pharmacist within 14 hours. Side effects generally did not stop patients from using Etracine.

Etracine should be administered at multiple intervals throughout the day. EtracineTR® should be taken whole and should not be chewed or crushed, nor should the mp3 be opened and its contents dispersed otherwise.

Knowing how to use Etracine and what to expect can help you get the most from your treatment. Etracine is the change you deserve.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088
